COMING MUSTERS

One Of Them Likely To Be Held In Thomaston This Fall.

At a meeting of the Maine State Hand Engine League at New Meadows Inn Saturday the associations manning the tub Amazon of Wisconsin and Waterwitch of Bowdoinham were admitted to the league and it was voted that all musters in Maine this season be league musters. The next muster in Maine is at Boothbay Harbor Aug. 15 under the auspices of the Minnehaha association. It is also probable that a muster will be staged in Thomaston by the R. H. Counce association.

President Clarence Colby of the League, member of the Androscoggin association, Topsham, presided. Others present included Levi T. Thompson, Bath, a trustee, representing the Senator Baxter tub of the Bath V. F. A.; J. B. Reed, Boothbay Harbor, the Minnehaha association; Robert Cosgrove, Gardiner, the association of the same name; Charles Colby, Topsham, of the Androscoggin tub; Ralph Jones, Randolph, of the Hella association; Charles Platt, Portland, of the James W. Plaisted association; judges and trustees.

The league now has 17 tubs in its membership, representing just as many veteran firemen associations, as follows:

- Tub and place.
- Sagadahoc, Bath.
- Senator Baxter, Bath.
- Androscoggin, Topsham.
- Niagara, Brunswick.
- Kennebec, Westbrook.
- James W. Plaisted, Portland.
- Robert Cosgrove, Gardiner.
- Tiger, Hallowell.
- Hecla, Randolph.
- R. H. Counce, Thomaston.
- Massachusetts, Damariscotta.
- Minnehaha, Boothbay Harbor.
- Albert R. Haveren, Rockland.
- Amazon, Wiscasset.
- Waterwitch, Bowdoinham.
- General Bates, Lisbon Falls.
- G. W. Burgess, Rockport.

MAINE'S SPECIAL ELECTION

Here Is a Review of the Three Important Questions You Will Vote Upon Sept. 14.

Two resolves and one private and special law will be offered to the public for vote by referendum on Sept. 14.

The first is the resolve proposing an amendment to the Constitution of Maine, authorizing the issuing of bonds to be used for the purpose of building a bridge across the Kennebec River between the city of Bath and the town of Woolwich.

This resolve authorizes the issuing of additional bonds of Maine not exceeding $3,000,000 at any one time, payable within 51 years at a rate of interest not exceeding 4 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, which bonds or their proceeds shall be devoted entirely to the building of a railroad and highway, combination bridge across the Kennebec as described.

The question shall be: "Shall the constitution be amended as proposed by a resolution of the legislature providing for an increase in the amount of State bonds to be issued for the purpose of building a highway or combination highway and railroad bridge across the Kennebec river, between the city of Bath and the town of Woolwich?"

Second Question
The second resolve coming up for referendum according to terms of the constitution provides that the Legislature shall authorize the issue of bonds not exceeding $15,000,000 at any one time payable within 41 years, interest not to exceed 6 per cent, which bonds or their proceeds shall be devoted to building State highways and interstate, intra-state and international bridges, provided that bonds outstanding shall never in the aggregate exceed $15,000,000 which bonds issued in 1925, shall be serial bonds and when paid at maturity or otherwise retired, shall not be re-issued. The expenditure of this money shall be equitably distributed among the several counties of the State.

Third Question
The third question for referendum is the Passamaquoddy Project for power development, known as the Dexter Cooper plan, to dam the river of the Bay of Fundy and utilize the force of the tides to produce power.

The Act under Private and Special Laws of Maine, authorizes Dexter P. Cooper, Gertrude S. Cooper and F. A. Harvey of Eastport and E. H. Bennett of Lubec, in Maine, to form a corporation with all the powers of similar corporations authorized to sell, distribute and supply electricity for power light and heat under the general laws of Maine except as herein provided otherwise.

The project to develop the tides of the Bay of Fundy at or near Lubec and Eastport is located partly in the United States and partly in Canada. The grant privileges the incorporators to erect dams in Cobscook Bay, Passamaquoddy Bay or near Eastport and all such dams, locks, docks, power-stations, etc., as are essential.

The act grants Dexter P. Cooper, Inc., all rights to manufacture, sell, distribute, lease, etc., such power subject to the general law that he shall not sell or distribute power in any town or community in which

GOOD FACTORY BUILDING

Berliawsky Property On Walnut Street Is Favored For the Proposed New Industry.

The Berliawsky building on Walnut street was recently inspected by Harry Moody, in company with members of the Chamber of Commerce with a view to seeing what its adaptability might be as a factory wherein Risk, Moody & Robinson, Inc. could manufacture its established line of men's underwear.

The structure was found to answer the requirements as to size and the thoroughness of its construction was admired. It has never been thoroughly completed, and this, too, has its advantages, for the work of remodeling can be carried on much more easily. Estimates will at once be prepared as to the cost of the necessary work.

Mr. Moody did not hesitate to express his satisfaction with the place, and said that he had no reason to believe that it would not solve the building problem.

If established this will provide Rockland with an industrial plant having a capacity for 200 hands or more to whom it will give clean, well paid employment, making a most welcome addition to the city's industries.

It is up to the city to give Mr. Moody's concern a hearty welcome, and lend its assistance in every possible way to bring the industry here.

Knights of Youth, a new order whose purpose is the ethical training of school children, has been introduced in 12 public schools of New York City, and about 1,000 children are enlisted in the ranks of knight-hood in a single school, No. 15. The order acclaims character as the knight's noblest quest, and it was formed to retard the increase of juvenile crime. It is sponsored by the National Child Welfare Association.

A notable instance of this was recently shown when a group of men representing big interests from out of the state recently made a tour following closely the route taken by the visiting Governors, one of the party being Gov. W. P. G. Harding of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, Mass.

BRINGING RESULTS

Maine's Publicity Campaign Appears To Be Getting the Goods.

That the Maine Development Campaign now being conducted by State officials and civic bodies throughout the State is attracting widespread interest not only in the State but throughout the country is attested by the many unsolicited forms of publicity which are received at the State House daily.

The state has already received several unsolicited articles in the monthly magazines throughout the country as well as favorable editorial comment on its development programs, in the metropolitan dailies in other states.

Two instances of magazine publicity are shown in the July issues of "Outdoors Pictorial," a monthly magazine published in Washington D. C., and "The Automobileist," the official publication of the Automobile Legal Association, published in Boston, Mass. "Outdoors Pictorial" contains an illustrated article on "The Pleasure-bound Coast of Maine," while "The Automobileist" contains an editorial comment on Maine as the ideal place for the tourist and devotes a full page to a road map of Maine.

A menu card which is used on all of the Boston and Maine railroad lines has just been received by Gov. Brewster, the back page of which is devoted entirely to the State of Maine. It is a statement extending a cordial welcome to the visitor and gives in concise form facts concerning the State—its industries, natural resources, and recreational advantages. Such publicity reaches thousands of people who are not merely summer tourists but people interested in industrial and agricultural activities, so its value is threefold. The front page also is taken up with a picture of a Maine lake.

In a communication to Governor Brewster concerning it, Mr. R. T. F. Joyce, assistant to the President, says in part: "From newspaper man who attended the session of the recent Governors' convention I have learned that the State of Maine gave the Executive the usual impression of a fine hospitality, together with that of a good place to live and to enjoy living."

"If we can help further in the effort to make Maine known even more widely, we are at your service."

Another bit of unsolicited advertising appeared in the July 9 issue of Printers Ink which circulates among general managers, and others concerned with the marketing of merchandise and services. It consisted of an advertisement by the H. K. McCann advertising company of New York who publish the booklets and other advertising matter for the state. The ad takes up a full page.

Another form of free publicity arriving daily at the executive offices are in the form of letters of appreciation from the various Governors and distinguished guests who attended the recent Governors' conference. While these letters are in the form of appreciation for the way officials and citizens of Maine made their visit a pleasure they show that on returning to their respective states they became boosters of the State and that through lectures, speeches and newspaper articles which are still appearing that the people in other States are learning much about Maine.

One Governor writes in part,—"We enjoyed every minute of the trip and are still telling our friends how beautifully you received us."

Another writes—"Every moment of our stay was new and delightful. Our regret—only one—that we could not stay longer."

One of the Southern Governors writes in—"I think the cooperation of your citizens was simply stupendous and we have greetings from isolated farm houses as well as small towns and large cities was perfectly delightful."

That definite results are being obtained from this publicity is borne out by the hundreds of letters and personal calls received daily at the State of Maine Publicity Bureau at No. 6 Longfellow Square, Portland.

The present summer demand for Maine information far exceeds all preceding years. To date over ten thousand inquiries have come by mail in response to the Advertising campaign the out-of-state papers, made possible by the money appropriation by the state legislature.

In addition to these personal calls from tourists at the bureau are exceeding four hundred a day, the demand being so great that it has been necessary to keep the bureau open nights. All of which points to the fact that this should be Maine's banner season.

Present indications indicate that considerably more than a million tourists will visit Maine this summer. Of this number State officials and members of the various civic organizations who are conducting the Maine Development program confidently expect to interest many of these tourists who comprise some of the biggest and most influential business men of the country not only in existing Maine industries but also in providing to them that the state holds opportunities for new industries and further development of her present industries that no other state in the Union holds.

A notable instance of this was recently shown when a group of men representing big interests from out of the state recently made a tour following closely the route taken by the visiting Governors, one of the party being Gov. W. P. G. Harding of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston, Mass.

AN OWL'S HEAD TRAGEDY

Joseph Buckminster Sets Fire To Home and Perishes In Flames After a Quarrel With His Wife.

"You will not see me again; watch for flames."

Uttering these fateful words Joseph Buckminster of Owl's Head rushed Tuesday night from the home of Mrs. Susie Post, where he had twice called with a demand to see his wife, who frightened by his threats, had fled to a neighbor's for assistance.

Buckminster's prophecy was fulfilled with tragic accuracy. The house in which he had lived for several years was consumed by flames and those who searched among the ruins yesterday morning found charred remains which told more eloquently than words the manner in which his disappearance was accomplished.

Joseph Buckminster was 34 years of age and formerly resided in Stonington and moved to Owl's Head several years ago. More recently he had been employed in Dexter, it is understood.

The last chapter of his career was prefaced by a protracted spree, which terminated in a quarrel with his wife, whom he is alleged to have threatened with a shot-gun. Frightened by this demonstration Mrs. Buckminster went to the home of her aunt, Mrs. Post, but was away seeking assistance when her husband called there with the demand to see her.

What followed has already been told. Apparatus was summoned from Rockland to fight the flames but lack of water proved a great handicap. House and barn were destroyed, a cow perishing in the later. The charred bones of Buckminster were found where the ell had stood.

Sherrill Thurston and Deputies Orleton, Rokes and Condon aided in the search for the body.

The buildings were formerly known as the Manford Dyer place, and were owned by Mrs. Alice Philbrook, who, at the time was in Winslow's Mills. They were insured.

Medical Examiner Frohock made an investigation.

STRUCK BY TIDAL WAVE

Grafton Wolfe Smith's Presence of Mind Saves Lives of His Guests On Speed Boat Northeast, Jr.

Yesterday's Portland morning paper had the following story concerning another narrow escape by Grafton Wolfe Smith, son of Mrs. J. M. Baldrige of Warrenton Park:

A huge 100-foot wave which came out of a calm Atlantic, struck with terrible force the speed boat Northeast, Jr., disabled the craft by breaking the propeller, and completely drenched and left stranded, the eight passengers of the boat, late last night, 14 miles off the shore of the harbor.

If it had not been for the watchfulness of the United States Guard, stationed on the Isles of Shoals, the occupants of the boat, who included Misses Martha and Eleanor Chaffant, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chaffant of Pittsburgh, and Miss Isabel Laughlin, also of Pittsburgh, would have probably met their deaths in the angry waters, or would have at least suffered most severely from exposure, as none of the party had heavy wraps and no food or water.

According to the story told by Miss Eleanor Jackson of Boston, one of the passengers on the boat, the vacationists early last evening on an invitation extended by the owner of the Northeast, Jr., left the harbor for a trip to the Isles of Shoals, at least 16 miles off the shore. While nearing the Shoals without a moment's warning, a huge wave came up and sidwiped the craft, which was moving at a high rate of speed. It luckily carried the small boat to the crest of the wave, the propeller being out of the water with the crank shaft broken. Miss Jackson stated that the boat was going 55 miles an hour when the accident happened.

The coast guard, who are keeping a very close watch of that section of the Atlantic for rum runners, saw the distress signal down from the boat, and immediately set out for the eight stranded colonists.

On arriving they tied a rope to the craft and towed it back to York Harbor, where awaiting them after midnight were frantic parents and members of the summer colony who on realizing something was wrong gathered at the boat landing.

It is believed that the boat skidded when struck by the wave on account of the high rate of speed it was going. When the wave hit the boat, Grafton Smith of Boston, owner, threw the wheel around in trying to avoid what seemed an inevitable catastrophe. This move on Mr. Smith's part, undoubtedly saved the occupants from drowning.

The "Northeast, Jr." is a baby Gar type and is capable of making better than sixty miles an hour, being the same sort of a boat as the one which recently defeated the 20th Century Limited on its run from Albany to New York. In the party who are today receiving congratulations from their many friends, other than the above mentioned were Mrs. Bryan Dancy, Gene Richards and Miss Elizabeth Randall, Baltimore.

ANTHONY PEARSE JUMPED

And So Would You, If You Had Been In His Shoes—Story Of a Deer and a Bob-Cat.

Anthony Pearse of Hope found the carcass of a deer in one of the lanes on his farm back of Bald Mountain, about 1 1/2 miles from Hope Corner the other day. He dragged it into the open and was making a careful inspection, when he got the scare of his life, for a bob-cat dropped out of an oak tree almost at his feet. If Anthony was scared, so, apparently was the bob-cat, for away he bounded like a flash giving utterance to the shrill ululation, which makes goose-flesh form on the average hearer.

Mr. Pearse carried an axe and a hammer, but he was just as well satisfied that the cat did not tarry to put up a fight.

Fred Smallwood of Rockland, who is now officiating in the capacity of full-time game warden, investigated the report, and is of the opinion that the bob-cat had followed the deer off Ragged Mountain, and waiting until the animal was thoroughly exhausted, struck the fatal blow.

The victim was a 2-year-old crotch horn buck.

Bob-cats are rather rare in Knox County, although one was seen last winter in the suburbs of Camden. The frequency with which hens and chickens are lost by the farmers would seem to indicate the presence of some prowler having more than two feet.

The abandoned farm districts serve as a lure to the animals, is Mr. Smallwood's opinion.

From North Warren Tuesday came a report that a dog was chasing deer. Warden Smallwood made a prompt investigation, but dog and deer had disappeared.

"We are getting co-operation from some of the dog-owners," Warden Smallwood told The Courier-Gazette, "but we think that more of them would also assist. I have talked personally with about 250 owners in Knox and Waldo Counties, and we are getting good results."

Mr. Smallwood is subject to call anywhere but his definite territory will probably include Knox, Lincoln and Waldo Counties.

In the course of his rounds he finds some non-residents who are fishing without the necessary licenses. They can easily keep on the side of the law by paying $3.15. Licenses are obtainable from Supt. Libby at the Camden Fish Hatchery, and can also be obtained from City Clerk Keene of Rockland.

Warden Smallwood sees indications that birds will be quite plentiful this fall, although the protracted damp weather has had for the chickens. Having been a guide in the big woods about 15 years Warden Smallwood is no stranger to his present duties, and may be counted upon to give faithful and efficient service.

BOUND FOR SEATTLE

Rockland Woman On the Special Train Headed For the Convention City.

Knights Templars and their wives and daughters from all parts of New England left Boston Monday morning on a special train which took them to Montreal, Que., the first stopping place on their way to Seattle, Wash., where they are to attend the 36th Triennial Conclave and Grand Encampment.

In addition to the special conclave program which the New England Knights, numbering more than 75, are to enjoy, they have planned an extensive sightseeing tour including visits to Banff and Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies, thence to Vancouver and from Vancouver to Victoria and Seattle. The Knights on the return trip will visit in the West.

The first stop after leaving Seattle will be Portland, from which the tourists will go to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Riverside, and then to the Grand Canyon and Colorado Springs. From there the trip will be made direct to Chicago and Boston, returning Aug. 14.

Maine people among the tourists are Mrs. George W. Bachelder of Rockland and Miss Louise Tripp of Alfred.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

MY LIFE IS LIKE THE SUMMER ROSE

My life is like the summer rose
That opens to the morning sky,
But ere the shades of evening close,
Is scattered on the ground—to die!
Yet on the rose's humble bed
The sweetest dew of night is shed,
As though she wept such waste to see—
But none shall weep a tear for me!

My life is like the autumn leaf
That trembles in the moon's pale ray:
It's hold is frail—it's date is brief,
Restless—and soon to pass away!
Yet, ere that leaf shall fall and fade,
The parent tree will mourn its shade,
The winds bewail the leafless tree,
But none shall breathe a sigh for me!

My life is like the prints which feet
Have left on Tampa's desert strand;
Soon as the rising tide shall beat,
All trace will vanish from the sand,
Yet, as if grieving to efface
All vestige of the human race,
On that lone shore loud moans the sea—
But none, alas! shall mourn for me!
—Richard Henry Widge.

The Courier-Gazette

THREE TIMES A WEEK

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT

Rockland, Maine, July 23, 1925.
Personally appeared Frank S. Liddle, who on oath declares that he is president in the office of The Courier-Gazette, and that of the issue of this paper of July 21, 1925, there was printed a total of 6,405 copies.
Before me, FRANK R. MILLER,
Notary Public.

If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat; and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink.—Proverbs, 25:21.

When we are broadcasting to the world the natural advantages of Maine we should not omit to lay emphasis upon the matter of health. Is there any subject that more closely engages personal attention? Does it not share with the weather the time devoted to conversation? Here are some statistics with which it may be profitable to ornament such exchanges of personal details, taken out of the recent records of the Maine Public Health Association. Maine's tuberculosis death rate—for the latest year in which national comparative figures are available, 1923—was the lowest east of the Mississippi River and south of the Great Lakes. Only five states exceeded Maine in 1923 in the reduction in its infant death rate. For 1924 Maine again reduced its infant death rate from 89 per 1,000 births to approximately 80, a reduction of about ten per cent. A comparative table showing Maine and the other states gives Maine a lower death rate for all-age groups up to and including the age of 65, than is shown by the average for the entire country, with the triumphant demonstration that in Maine the average length of life is seven and six-tenths years longer than the average for the United States. Is it any wonder that all over the State golf courses are multiplying, fulfilling a double purpose, giving to these years-added persons an agreeable form of recreation, which in return serves still further to add to those added years. Let us no longer remain mute in the face of the bold claims of California and Florida as regions where health superlatively abounds. Marshalling the figures collected impartially by the authorities, let us bid the world come to Maine and lengthen out life's span.

The Tennessee court trial has ended as most anybody would expect it to end. The High School teacher who was on trial for teaching in his school the theory of evolution, contrary to a State law, was found guilty, fined $100 and appealed his case to the Supreme Court. All the hysteria of Mr. Bryan, Mr. Darrow and the other lawyers over the disputed topics of evolution and fundamentalism found no proper place in the proceedings, though in connection with the case these topics were flourished vigorously in the face of the world which has been with more or less curiosity looking on.

We don't know just the significance of the "Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation"—it may be only a side line of the mail order business organized for purposes of free publicity—but we will "fall for it" this time to the extent of quoting from its compiled figures conveying the information that more than one-fourth the Maine State legislature are farmers. Of the 31 Senators, two are farmers, and 47 out of the 151 members of the lower house list themselves as agriculturists. A few divide their time between farming and banking, farming and insurance, or some other profession or occupation in addition to their farm interests. Iowa with a farm population of 46 per cent has 99 farmers in its legislature membership of 153, the highest proportion of any of the states studied. Pennsylvania with its 11 per cent farm population, has only 15 farmers in its legislature out of a total of 258 members. Mrs. Mabel A. Gillespie of Gretna, a member of the Nebraska lower house, is the only farmer's wife on record holding a legislative job. The ratio of representation of farmers in Congress is lower than the average found in the state legislatures. With a national farm population of 30 per cent, the 69th Congress finds only five farmers in the Senate and 21 in the House of Representatives. With Maine not listed as absolutely an agricultural State the farmer is on the whole pretty well in evidence in this connection.

Apologies for the preceding statement of interesting information it is proper to call attention to the fact that Maine is the first state to make an actual, practical demonstration of co-operation and co-ordination in public health work. Real teamwork prevails between the State Department of Health, the State Department of Education, the Maine Public Health Association, the Maine Medical Association and other Maine official and non-official agencies and organizations. This teamwork prevents overlapping and duplication, eliminates friction and makes for economy.

For a Bona Fide Spirit Message From Oregon Man's Deceased Wife.

A reward of $500 to anyone who can communicate with his dead wife has been offered by J. Albert Gilbert of Portland, Oregon, 139 "spirit messages" but they're all fakes, he announces in the Scientific American.

Before Mrs. Gilbert died in 1917 a pass word was agreed upon so that her husband could identify messages coming from her after death. A copy of the pass word was sealed in a safe deposit vault.

Since the $500 offer was made three years ago, Gilbert has been flooded with alleged messages from his wife, variously signed "Susan," "Anna," "Louise," "Sunbeam," "Mrs. Gilbert's name was Florence. The offer has been renewed.

In announcing his rejection of all the messages, Gilbert said: "Those who knew my wife could certainly not imagine her saying, 'I'm I am here, old boy' or 'Gill, I love you.'"

A DOUBLE-JOINTED GAME

Rockland Wins From Camden In a Two-Section Contest—Other Baseball News.

Rockland 10, Camden 3
Last night's game was played in two sections, both under the patronage of Jupiter Playhouse. The first section resulted in a score of 6 to 3 in favor of Rockland, and was stopped early in the last half of the 4th inning, with only one Rockland man down. A steady drizzle had been in progress for some time, but the downpour finally became so serious that Umpire Kennedy suspended play, and five minutes later called the game on account of rain. A very large proportion of the crowd left the grounds bemoaning the fact that enough innings could not have been played to constitute a game.

Many of them did not know, and will not know until they read this report, that there was a second installment of the contest, that lasted part way into the 8th inning and left a score of 10 to 3 in favor of Rockland. Camden made two runs in the first half of the 8th but they were nullified, as the score reverts to even innings, and would have been futile in any event.

Both teams imported new pitchers for this game, Camden using Perry, who had been so effective against them in the Tugus game, while Rockland secured (permanently) the services of Aube, the Catholic High School sensation of Portland.

Perry appeared to have lost his rabbit's foot, for he fanned only one man, and was touched up for a total of 22 bases in seven innings. The crowd watched Aube with a good deal of interest and approval. He has a speedy ball and lots on it, and there was only one inning in which Camden was able to make consecutive hits. And in that inning Camden failed to score. This was partly due, however, to two one-hand catches by Oney.

Allen batted in the clean-up position and justified this faith in him by making a home run and a triple. Dimick's home run in the 4th was one of the longest hits ever made at Community Park.

Daker and Mealey were busy men in the outfield and the two rivals covered themselves with glory.

The score:

Fords 13, Ponies 4

Equines, though young and in their prime, cannot keep pace with motor vehicles, no matter what their age or condition. Was this the moral of Tuesday night's game at Community Park, or were Bert McLeod's Ponies simply off their stride.

Three Ponies pawed the mound without hindering the speedy Fords. Fifteen hits, with a total of 23 bases, tells that the "Lizzies" were running in high, and none more joyously than Simmons who made a triple and three singles in five trips to the plate. Clossom made a single, double and triple in four times up, and Copeland astounded the populace with a home run.

Kelley McLeod, who had been getting out and getting under all day, proved that he still had plenty of pep, for he fanned 17 in a seven-inning game.

Frohook did some marvelous stunts in left field and narrowly escaped being hit by several flies.

Warren 6, Cushnocs 1

The Cushnoc Paper Co. of Augusta, one of the leading teams of the Two-Base League in that city met defeat in Warren Saturday. Up to the 8th inning this was one of the best games of the season. One of the longest hits of the season was made in the third inning by Cross. Walker made some sensational plays at first. The fielding of Froberger and Walter Whitten was especially good as both players robbed Warren of several long hits. Next Saturday the Vick-Dimick. Bases on balls, off Aube 2, off Perry 1. Struck out, by Aube 7, by Perry 1. Hit by pitcher, Grindle.

A VICIOUS PRACTICE

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

A shocking piece of villainy came to light on the shores of Rocky Pond Monday night when two local young men were discovered, concealed by branches, piled with care, within 10 feet of the place where a group of twenty young women employed in local stores were dressing following their plunge in the pond. The sheer viciousness of the piece of premeditated, filthy brutality practiced on the Lord only knows how many of the city's best people, causes the blood of any right thinking man to chill with rage. Such a practice is bound to lead to serious trouble, either for the young men or others, and will likewise drive hundreds of women and children away from an ideal bathing ground unless some protection of bath house or dressing tent is provided.

REUNIONS

August 12—Delegates of Ebenezer Hall, at Penobscot View Grange Hall, Glen Cove.
 August 26—Ingraham family (45th annual), at Penobscot View Grange Hall, Glen Cove.

W. H. Maxey is spending the week with Dallas March in Vinalhaven.

Steamer Westport was launched from the South Railway yesterday.

E. Mont Perry is acting as vacation clerk at E. E. Simmons' candy store.

H. B. Barter is at Biddeford Pool superintending alterations in the Coast Guard Station.

Judge Ellery Bowden of Waldo County Probate Court presided over the July session of Knox County Probate Court Tuesday, in the absence of Judge Gould who is in Seattle.

The look of supreme contentment which yesterday adorned the features of Ralph Conant, clerk at Willis Ayer's store, was satisfactorily explained when they began calling him "Grampy."

W. G. Robinson of Gardiner, who is spending a few days' vacation in Rockland and Warren, was one of the most interested spectators at last night's ball game. Says Rockland has a peach of a player in Brisk.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Rankin, who live at Rocky Pond in West Rockport, have remembered the office, as usual, and sent in a bunch of particularly fine sweet peas. Their "farm" at the road side is the most attractive small place on the way from Rockland to West Rockport.

Mrs. Edmund G. Wotton always believed that The Courier-Gazette was a valuable advice giving medium, but she had renewed proof of it yesterday, when she sold her Hippomobile Straight Eight to Stanley V. Nickerson. It was advertised in Tuesday's issue.

John O. Sullivan, who has been in the employ of the Inter-State Business Men's Accident Association as agent, the past 14 months, has been promoted to district manager for the district comprising Knox, Lincoln and Sagadahoc Counties. The appointment was made by Calvin F. Troupe, Jr., field manager, who appreciates the work his subordinate has been doing.

The boys around the city building saw an interesting sight Tuesday night when the wheel dropped from a motor car which was passing rapidly over Union street. The wheel, left to its own resources did lots of queer stunts before it finally lodged in a corner pocket, and the car itself kept on farming, apparently as well satisfied with three wheels as it was with four.

Hon. William Tudor Gardiner, speaker of the session of the House of Representatives was a visitor in the city yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Gardiner. They were returning from Eastport, where they had accompanied the Maine Publicity excursion. The politically wise are saying that Mr. Gardiner's attainments are not going to end with the speakership.

"Here's something in return for these kind words your paper said about us," remarked Benjamin F. Colamore yesterday, depositing on the editorial desk a large box of sweet peas which smelled just as nice as they looked. Mr. Colamore's flower garden at 39 Cedar street has 14 varieties of sweet peas, and the person who can pass them by unheeded needs must be bereft of the senses of sight and smell.

The Vinalhaven Old Timers, who play in Rockland one week from today, will probably present the following lineup: Arthur Patterson, and William Snowman, catchers (one at a time); W. H. Burns, pitcher; Charles L. Bowman, first base; Frank M. White, second base; D. F. Mills, third base; Leon W. Sanborn, shortstop; L. E. Williams, Irwin W. Welch and H. W. Pritchard, outfielders. All well regulated teams have substitutes and so Vinalhaven is bringing Harry Sanborn, E. A. Smalley, G. C. Peaslee and perhaps others. Dr. Lyford will be one of the umpires, perhaps both of them.

Kenwood Blankets
For Summer Use

Here Are Some Special Kenwood Uses:

Kenwood Blankets lend themselves to a diversity of uses—

First: As the ideal bed coverings for luxurious comfort and warmth.

Second: Because of their beauty of pattern and coloring, they complete the decorative color scheme in any bedroom.

Third: Invaluable as blankets for the Summer home or Camp, where WARM blankets are a necessity, and where Kenwoods may be used during the day in lieu of counterpane or extra spread.

Fourth: Kenwoods are the perfect gift for wedding or anniversary.

Here Are Some Special Kenwood Features:

1. All pure NEW wool of selected long fibre.

2. Pre-shrinkage at the mill to hold shape and size in washing.

3. Nap that does not wash away.

4. Greater warmth in proportion to weight.

5. Distinctive designs and colorings.

6. Colors from the most permanent dyes obtainable.

7. Unusual long-wearing serviceability.

These are some of the reasons for buying Kenwood Blankets.

BASEMENT

Exasperating weather for the painting contractors, thus far. It is almost impossible to get two successive days' work on exteriors.

A. B. Clark of the Lime Company staff is having his annual vacation, part of which is being devoted to a trip to New York on the barge Rock Harbor.

Peter D. Lynn was discharged from Knox Hospital Tuesday, after two weeks' treatment there following a surgical operation. His condition is rapidly improving. William Winslow has also returned home, convalescing from an operation.

Former Governor and Mrs. Carl E. Milliken were in the city yesterday, and dined last evening with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer S. Bird and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Crie at Wessaweskeag Inn. Gov. Milliken is now collector of the port of Portland, and keeping a close eye on rum-running operations.

Mrs. Edmund G. Wotton has sold her late husband's trucking business to William Foster, well known throughout the county as pitcher on the Rockland ball team, and formerly as a driver for the Express Company. "Bill's" many friends wish him the best of success. Mrs. Wotton will assist him with the business details for a while.

RUINED BY ADVERTISING

A retired merchant, now of Santa Barbara, asked another merchant, who had failed, "What ruined your business?"
 The other replied, "Advertising."

"How was that?" asked the wealthy merchant in surprise.
 "I let my competitors do it," all was his answer.

Golf at the Country Club Saturday afternoon will be featured by a sweepstake match in which every player is desired to take part.

Fred Parker of West Rockport, an employee of the Edward Bryant Co. in its Rockport quarries, was struck on the head by a rock falling from the bluff yesterday afternoon, sustaining injuries which later resulted in his being taken to the hospital. This morning he had partially regained consciousness but is still in a very serious condition. He is married and has several daughters.

John P. Leach, secretary of the Camden Board of Trade—a booster for his home town first, last and all ways—was in the city yesterday, having made the trip from Rockland to Eastport and return with the Maine Publicity Excursion. The Eastport end of the excursion was curtailed somewhat on account of the dense fog, but the visitors saw what they particularly went to see—the layout for the Cooper "Quoddy" Power Development, whose attempt to secure a charter from the State is one of the questions which will be voted upon in September. The location of the project comprises the bays bordering on Eastport and Lubec, Maine and St. Andrews, New Brunswick, Canada. This development proposes to use the rise and fall of the tides of the Bay of Fundy for generating electricity. Owing to the favorable topographical formation in this region it is possible to construct works, at a reasonable cost, which will permit the creation of two large reservoirs or pools. The upper pool serves as a reservoir of supply to the powerhouse, while the lower pool is a reservoir to receive the water from the powerhouse. At no time are the levels of these two pools to be the same, thus assuring a continuous output of power. At high tide the upper pool is refilled and at low tide the lower pool is drained. The amount of power to be developed is between 500,000 and 700,000 horsepower and the cost is between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000. The time required to construct is four years and the number of men to be employed, 5,000. The visitors are much impressed with the proposition, and found the Eastern end of the State quite willing to co-operate with this section of Maine by voting for the Kennebec Bridge resolve. George Green of South Thomaston, who has been interested in tidal power development for many years, also made the Eastport trip.

ALL ABOUT RUM

Reports just received at the Department of Justice are said to disclose a state of corruption among federal, state and municipal officers, demonstrating that the present dry law administration is a failure and imperatively calls for a change of system such as is proposed in the Andrews plan of prohibition enforcement that is to become operative on Aug. 1, in accordance with orders issued by Mr. Mellon, the secretary of the treasury.

These reports came from the United States district attorneys in various states throughout the country and were submitted in response to a circular sent out by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney-general in charge of prohibition enforcement, soliciting information on various phases of the dry law problem.

Of the replies received, it was said today, 50 per cent allege that corruption exists in at least 40 per cent of the districts in which the inquiry was conducted.

No foundation exists for the rumors throughout the State and the reports in several State papers that a large amount of the liquor seized on the French schooner Cherie, June 21 by federal agents, has been stolen. Seth May, director of the Federal Prohibition Forces for Maine says, "These reports are absolutely without truth. In the transportation of the 3280 cases and 700 barrels of liquor from the schooner to the Federal building in Bangor, a few loose bottles were taken. We have established the identity of the persons who took these few bottles, and will place the report with the Federal Grand Jury."

"But the reports which announce that a large part of the liquor was stolen are not true. They have no foundation. The transportation of the seized liquor from the Cherie to the Federal building was done with remarkable efficiency. All loads were watched from the time they left the ship until they were deposited in the building."

A Colorful Scarf

To add a note of color and dash to the all white costume, one must wear one of the smart new scarves of printed silks. This one, worn by Kathleen Key in "The Midshipman," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture starring Ramon Novarro, has large black and orange polka dots on a white background, finished with a silk fringe of orange.

Worn about the neck, it adds a dashing touch of color and smartness to the all white sport costume Miss Key is wearing.

STRAND THEATRE

Today the Gladys Clark company is offering the greatest of all American dramas "The Rosary," and those who have not witnessed it will have the opportunity now. Reserved seats are now on sale at the box office at popular prices.

Friday and Saturday Richard Talmadge in "Laughing at Danger" will be shown. "Break-neck" speed is a literal as well as a figurative term for Dick Talmadge. It was only a few weeks ago that this agile young star and stunt actor fractured a vertebrae in his neck just as he was completing work on the second of his productions. Now that he is entirely well again, his latest release "Laughing at Danger" proves conclusively that a little thing like a broken neck is nothing in his life. In this latest lightning-fast melodrama, Mr. Talmadge eclipses all of his previous efforts, both in point of dangerous work and in acting ability. He is fortunate in the support of Eva Novak, who adds just the right touch of romance and sweetness to a rattling story.—adv.

STRANGE MANIFESTATION

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
 The article in your July 15 issue in regard to Clarence E. Wheeler of California who is visiting in the city and of the strange power he professes to possess is interesting. I believe many men and women are endowed with a supernatural gift which under the right conditions could be brought to the surface and prove wonderful. Let me relate an incident that came before my observation Sunday, July 12. Driving in the country, I stopped for awhile at the Pentecostal Church meetings in Appleton. There I saw an old lady, 91 years old, go into a trance, talk and give a message in an unknown tongue. She also got the message back in the English language and delivered it, saying she did not know who the message was for but it was for some one there and he would know. I understand a man present, who is not of the faith of these people, knew the message was for him. Any one who could have witnessed this incident as I did, with the unknown power exhibited by that woman of 91 years, must be convinced that there are powers unknown and undeveloped in humanity which if brought out under right conditions would be marvelous. I understand that this old lady came over from Waldo county, near Belfast. She left an impression stamped on my mind, and I am sure I have lots to learn yet. There was a crowd of people present who saw and heard as I did.

Rockland, July 21. A Salesman.

Lieut. Tyler W. Spear, who is in the Naval aviation service and stationed at Lakehurst, N. J., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Spear, Talbot avenue, while on a 10 day leave of absence. He had an interesting chat with the engineering officer of the Shenandoah, after the dirigible had returned from its Maine trip, and the officer told him that the Shenandoah shaped its course over the Samoset grounds and Breakwater. He expressed much curiosity as to the nature of "those big holes in the ground" at the rear of the city, having reference of course, to the linerock quarries. In answer to the many inquiries which have been asked, Lieut. Spear says that Charles A. ("Hucky") Heckbert was not aboard the Shenandoah during the Maine cruise. He has disposed of his residence in Lakehurst, and is having a furlough prior to being transferred to Honolulu, where he will be on duty at a mooring mast.

SHORTER DECALOGUE

Such is Proposal To Be Considered By Episcopal Convention in October.

The condensed version of the Ten Commandments which will be submitted to the triennial convention of the Episcopal church in New Orleans next October, with the idea of shortening the church service, has been made public.

With the exception of the second, all units in the decalogue are reduced to single brief sentences.

 The commissioner's report said the changes were made "to meet modern conditions." The new modification is:

"1—Thou shalt have none other gods but Me."
 "2—Thou shalt not make to thyself any graven image, nor the likeness of anything that is in heaven above, or in the earth below, or in the water under the earth; thou shalt not bow down to them, nor worship them.

 "3—Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain.
 "4—Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath day.
 "5—Honor thy father and thy mother.
 "6—Thou shalt do no murder.
 "7—Thou shalt not commit adultery.
 "8—Thou shalt not steal.
 "9—Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.
 "10—Thou shalt not covet."

APPLE BLOOM TIME IN NORMANDY

Etretat in spring is one of the loveliest sights imaginable. The beauty of Japan in the cherry blossom season cannot surely surpass the Normandy landscape white with apple bloom.

The Grand Val d'Etretat and the surrounding country seem as though covered with snow at this time of the year; and no better view of it can be got than from the golf links, on the cliffs, close to the famous Porte d'Aval.

Etretat is so easily reached nowadays that it is becoming almost "all the year round" resort. In this respect, it has greatly changed since Alphonse Karr discovered, and Offenbach, Le Poittevin, Isabey and Maupassant adopted it. In their days, it was a formidable undertaking to reach Etretat. When Guy de Maupassant came about forty years ago to his villa "La Guilleule," he and his servant were met at the first station by "a coupe and pair." "In this part of the world," said Maupassant, "the horses are all broken down, owing to the hilly roads, and perhaps to the careless driving." In going downhill, the visitors had to brace themselves against the front of the crazy old rattletrap in order to remain in it. But today, a branch line links Etretat to the main railway between Paris and Havre.

Mr.

WALTER P. CHRYSLER'S TRAFFIC TALKS

The city of yesterday was laid out when horse-drawn vehicles and low buildings were the rule. This is an age of motor cars and sky-scrapers. And in this new age the same streets that were used yesterday are being taxed to the limit by all types of motor vehicular traffic.

Question might well be raised whether it wouldn't be better to require that new buildings be constructed ten feet further back from the building line than originally. What would be the result? As old buildings are replaced the street would become twenty feet wider.

Then, too, this plan would make the public more conscious of certain buildings and steps would be taken to replace them.

New York has a building with 14,000 tenants. That building has 65 elevators which carry 100,000 people every day. These people pack the streets below, which are of the same width as those of twenty-five years ago.

The control of vehicular traffic

OBEY MOTOR LAWS

Capacity of Nation Highways Can Be Increased By Proper Observance.

"As the number of motor cars on the streets and highways of the nation increases, it behooves good citizens, a majority of whom are motor car owners and drivers, to be particularly observant of traffic regulations," says George M. Simmons, representative of the Road Motor Car Company in this territory. "In the past there have been a good many people who would have disobeyed the average local ordinance no sooner than they would have committed a crime of major importance, but who have regularly sidestepped traffic laws without a twinge of conscience. No vicious motives lay behind their law-breaking. It was just the thing to do—sort of a game. Most of them paid their fines with a laugh, when they happened to be caught, and admitted that the joke was on them."

"But now that the number of motor cars in service has increased to such a great extent, it is vitally important that traffic regulations be observed. With law and order governing their operation, there is almost no limit to the number of cars that can be accommodated on the rapidly multiplying good streets and roads. Without orderly driving, the limit will be reached in the very near future."

"In the same way, it is of utmost importance that traffic legislation be sensible and that all regulations set up be practicable and not unnecessarily stringent. Many people blame the existence of crime partially to the great number of laws that have been created only to be half-remembered and never enforced. They say that such laws rob all other legislation of much of its power, and pave the way to what we know as 'crime waves.'"

THE WOMEN SCORE

Just As Competent To Drive Automobiles As Men, Says the A. A. A.

Women automobile drivers are just as competent if not more so than men.

This statement is made by the American Automobile Association after a series of tests.

The two most important tests, the road and the city, were conducted to determine the relative competence of men and women drivers. The results were as follows:

1. The road test was conducted on a winding road with many curves and hills. The women drivers performed as well as the men.

2. The city test was conducted in a busy city street. The women drivers performed as well as the men.

The American Automobile Association concludes that women are just as competent to drive automobiles as men.

STONE TRADE NEWS

As Told By Union Secretaries In This Locality.

The current issue of the Quarry Workers' Journal contains the following communications from secretaries of granite cutters' unions in this section:

Clark Island

We had a couple of barges in the first of the month and they cleaned up most of the paving but now they are expecting one in any day. The boys down here started a ball team and have gotten into the Twilight League but they are having hard luck and haven't won so far. We all wish them better luck from now on. There are quite a few members here that are slack about their dues and have got in bad standing and I am afraid that if they do not get into good standing soon, I will have to publish their names in the Journal.

LeRoy Jackson.

Stonington

The condition here is about the same as last month. The Crotch Island Granite corporation has shipped two large loads of random stock to New York, also five carloads of saw blocks to Marr and Gordon of Barre, Vt.

This is the anniversary month of open shop (American plan) that John L. Goss started on our four years ago the first of this month and he is still doing business on a large scale shipping rough stone (random) to union yards and it is being drilled and handled by union quarrymen and cut by union stone cutters.

The Deer Island Granite corporation shipped five carloads of saw blocks to Marr and Gordon of Barre, Vt. It was their first order. After receiving this order, they were so well pleased with it that they duplicated the order so, brothers, you can see it was not an inferior grade of Stonington granite.

Anthony Bye.

North Sullivan

We find business still continues to look good here and still in need of matters. We had a very good attendance at our last meeting. Hope to see them all and as many more at our next meeting. There will be something to entertain the members—the next meeting will be July 31. They are looking for three or four large vessels.

Delmar Robertson.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served and a pleasant evening spent. Several selections of music was enjoyed with Mrs. Fuller at the piano and Master Bud with his violin.

THROUGH NOVA SCOTIA BY AUTO

You'd be proud too if you had caught this big fellow. This youngster proves himself a good sportsman by taking an adversary his own way. Codfishing is an exciting sport in the old seafaring province of Nova Scotia as well as a profitable industry. The English fished for cod in these waters before the day of Queen Elizabeth, and the Basque fishermen before that. And the great Charlevoix reported enthusiastically that his sovereign that the cod fisheries of Nova Scotia were of "more value to France than all the mines of Peru and Mexico."

American anglers know Nova Scotia best for her famous trout and salmon fishing. There are so many places to fish that none of the waters are preserved, and they are more accessible to American visitors than they used to be. There are splendid motor roads which not only follow the coast but lead to all the streams and beautiful chains of lakes in the interior, where the trout are gamey and the amber waters are cool enough to keep the salmon wide awake.

Nova Scotia is famous for its swordfishing too; and it is the only place on the Atlantic coast where the giant leaping tuna are caught. Zane Grey broke the world's record for tuna (long held in Nova Scotia) when he landed his big 758-pounder up there last summer.

At all the seaside resorts, there are delicious lobsters and other seafoods for which Nova Scotia is so famous.

PLEASANT POINT

The dances which are being held in the Grange hall Tuesday evenings of each week, are largely attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wellington Smith are at Vinalhaven this week for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patton and maid of Philadelphia arrived Friday, where they are to spend two months at their beautiful summer home, Christmas Lodge.

Mrs. Josephine Shuman and Miss Edna Davis of Bath, Neb., are spending a week at Islesboro visiting relatives.

Mrs. C. R. Gray is spending the week in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell and Miss Ruby Jewell of New York, and Mrs. J. W. Maloney of Thomaston were at A. W. Maloney's Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shibles and son and daughter of Boston, are at Maple Juice Cove cottage for a few weeks.

Mrs. Hulda Stone has returned home from Rockland where she has been spending several weeks with her grandson, Lanscom Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Williams and Eloise Williams of Thomaston and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Moore of Sisseton, were guests of their sister, Mrs. A. W. Maloney Sunday.

Mrs. Abbie Wall, Mrs. Josie Stone and son of Thomaston, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Watts and children of Belmont, Mass., are at the Seavey cottage for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dunn and Charles Young of Thomaston, are at their summer home here.

The supper which was served in the schoolhouse last Friday evening by the members of the Pleasant Point Improvement Society assisted by summer residents, was largely attended, and was a success in every way. Although there was not much room, and the crowd was large, no one went away hungry, and there were a number of cakes left which were auctioned off. After the supper Mr. Mode, soloist at King's chapel, Boston, sang a number of selections, with Mrs. Mode accompanist, which were greatly enjoyed. About $50 was cleared which went into the treasury of the society to help build another piece of State road.

MATINICUS

Since our church was erected some years ago its pulpit has been filled at intermittent intervals by a number of ministers who have endeavored conscientiously to fulfill the exacting duties of its pastorate and at the same time to give satisfaction to the inhabitants, with varying results. Some were good, some bad, some indifferent. In fact, all the attractions of the country by the sea—and then some—can be accommodated. The cats are especially recommended. At one of these popular hostilities a traveler arrived to spend a few days. The first morning at the breakfast table the host and hostess solicitedly inquired of the guest as to the quality of his rest the previous night. "Well, to tell the truth," he said, "I didn't rest very well—I was troubled with insomnia." Charles jumped up fighting mad. "You're a liar," he hollered. "I'll give you ten dollars for every one you find in that bed!"

Little question for today—and every day: How many d'ju got today?

How this One-Profits Coach is built by Studebaker on the sturdy STANDARD SIX CHASSIS

SUPERFICIALLY other coaches may resemble this Studebaker Standard Six, but the resemblance will not stand analysis.

Only two cars are made on a one-profit basis—Ford in the lowest price field and Studebaker in the fine car field. Only in these two cases are all bodies, engines, clutches, gear-sets, springs, differentials, steering gear and axles designed, engineered and manufactured by one company.

Contrast this with the average car, where the extra profits of many outside parts and body makers must be included in the purchase price.

These profits are part of the production cost of the car—the same as the steel and wood of the body. They do not buy materials nor workmanship—they do not make any car one whit better.

Studebaker has achieved one-profit manufacture through years of far-sighted management and through sacrifice on the part of stockholders. Earnings which might have been distributed have been retained in the business to build one of the largest gray iron foundries in the world, to erect stamping mills, forges, etc., to purchase the finest labor-saving machinery, to construct enormous body-building plants.

As a result, resources totaling one hundred million dollars are concentrated upon the production of one-profit automobiles such as this Standard Six Coach.

TERMS IF DESIRED

Come in and see how easy it is to buy this Standard Six Coach on our liberal budget payment plan.

engineered and manufactured under one management, to work more efficiently with every other part.

A better car because Studebaker can afford to use finer upholstery, better steel, higher grades of lumber, more painstaking workmanship in hundreds of unseen places.

Scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation are built into every Studebaker. When the car which looked like an equal value while it was new, is breaking up, the Studebaker is breaking in.

That is why in Arizona—out where desert heat and rugged mountain trails test automobiles to the utmost—Studebaker sells double its normal proportion of cars. Every county in Arizona which has bought an automobile for its sheriff has bought a Studebaker.

This coach is not a one year car. As a splendid example of the facts stated above, we offer the Standard Six Coach. To appreciate this car you must see it and ride in it. We urge you to do so immediately. It is called a coach, but in reality a roomy five-passenger coupe.

It is a car that will give you faithful economical service. It is built to yield dependable, comfortable transportation for years and years.

Buy now—no more "yearly models" This is the time of the year when men have hesitated to purchase an automobile, fearing that the car they bought in July would be made obsolete artificially by the announcement of new yearly models in August or September. Studebaker has discontinued the custom of presenting yearly models. Instead, Studebakers will be kept up to the minute in body styles and chassis design regardless of the calendar.

Come in NOW—and see this sturdy, dependable, one-profit Coach.

What does it mean to you?

To you, as an automobile buyer, this means:

1. A Lower Price.
2. A Better Car.

A LOWER PRICE, because Studebaker does not need to pile its profits upon the profits of outside parts manufacturers and body builders.

A BETTER CAR, because it is a thoroughly coordinated, harmonious unit. Every part designed,

The summer season is now at its height. THOMASTON

Friday the Thomaston W. C. T. U. held a picnic supper at 6 o'clock in the Methodist vestry, the rain preventing having it on Miss Crandon's lawn as planned. An informal program was given consisting of singing by all and select readings by some of the members. Miss Alena Young, county superintendent of scientific temperance instruction, was an invited guest. She made helpful remarks, also asked some thought inspiring questions. At about 8 o'clock the company dispersed, all agreeing that it was a most enjoyable occasion.

Chaplain P. E. Clifford will preach at the Congregational church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Foster and daughter Ethel, returned Thursday to their home in Ipswich, Mass. The Thomaston Club will meet Thursday with Miss Margaret Ruggles. The program of the meeting will be arranged by Miss Rita C. Smith and Miss Hortense Wilson.

Dr. and Mrs. Henry L. Elliot visited Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Elliot.

Mrs. Mary Parker Clapp and son Roger returned to their home in Grand Gorge, N. Y., on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard O. Elliot entertained ten at Crescent Beach Inn Monday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William B. Foster of Ipswich, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. George B. Mathews of New Britain, Conn., Fred Andrews of Denver, Colo., Mary Parker Clapp of Grand Gorge, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Copeland of Pawtucket, R. I.

Mrs. John Sinex held an afternoon at home tea on Tuesday which was the first of a number of afternoons at home which Miss Sinex will hold.

Chester Vose recently gave a dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Biggins as guests of honor at his home on Brooklyn Heights. It was a very elaborate spread. Mr. Vose's ability in this line is well known and the dinner testified that he had lost none of his skill. The dinner was rather in the nature of a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Biggins who have returned to their home in Bangor having been there for two weeks guests of Mrs. Walter Currier.

Mrs. Dora B. Hancock and Mrs. Eva Norton, who have been attending the B. & P. W. Convention in Portland, spent Sunday with Mrs. Clara Williams.

Mrs. Jennie Benner has returned from Jefferson where she was guest of Mrs. Mattie Weeks and Mrs. E. Achorn.

In a dense fog which threatened a down pour of rain some fifty or more members and friends of the Baptist Sunday-school found their way to Oakdale Park Wednesday for a picnic. Once only during the day did they have to seek shelter from the rain. The committee on sports under the lead of the superintendent of the Sunday-school, Russell Gray, carried out their program.

Boxes of candy were given as prizes to the winners of the games. The victors in the two leg races were William Watson, Philip Newbert, Carl Gray and Billie Copeland. In the baseball field the Nutmegs won over the Pirates with a score of 14 to 12. The particularly bright star of the game was Dorothy Keller who displayed fine skill as a pitcher.

Miss Keller is an enthusiastic player. The breeze from the ocean was a stimulant of appetite, so the abundant good things the ladies had prepared were appreciated. It was a good time notwithstanding the weather handicap.

Social Circles

In addition to personal notes recording departures and arrivals, this department especially desires information of social happenings, parties, musicals, etc. Notes sent by mail or telephone will be gladly received. TELEPHONE 1770

The arrival and departure of guests during the vacation season is of interest both to them and their friends. The Courier-Gazette is glad to print such items of social news and will thank its friends to supply it with information in this connection.

At the home of Miss M. J. Watts in Thomaston Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock the Gen. Knox Chapter of the American Revolution, give a reception to its president, Mrs. Herbert M. Lord, invitation to the members of Lady Knox Chapter of Rockland. Mrs. Blaine Viles, of Augusta, State Regent of the D. A. R., will receive with Mrs. Lord, as will also President Hall of the Sons of the American Revolution. The hours of this afternoon reception should not be confused with the annual business meeting and election of officers of the Thomaston Chapter, which will be held in the Congregational church of that town from 10 to 12 o'clock in the forenoon.

Little Merritt "Buster" Lawry, young son of Capt. and Mrs. Orrin Lawry, who was operated on for appendicitis Sunday night at Knox Hospital, is doing nicely and will be glad to see his friends.

Harold C. Haskell, corporation counsel for the Hood Rubber Co., has been appointed special magistrate of the Brookline (Mass.) Municipal Court. Mr. Haskell is a former Rockland boy.

Miss Virginia Trumbull of Philadelphia is a two weeks' guest of her aunt, Mrs. A. T. Thurston, Crescent street.

A recital by Manuel Bernard (Cohen) who is summing in this city, will be given in the auditorium of the First Baptist church in the very near future. Arrangements are rapidly heading up and the local friends and admirers of the young genius are taking hold with a will. He was born and bred in this city, going directly from the city schools to New York City where he took up the intensive study of piano under the famous director, Frank Damrosch. He has been in his studies seven years, graduating and doing post graduate work in the Institute of Musical Art. He intends to continue his studies the coming winter. In his Rockland recital Mr. Bernard will be assisted by a very famous artist.

Mary Perry Rich is on a motor trip with her son Perry, accompanying him on his return trip to Detroit, via New York and Philadelphia.

Harold Taylor of Brookline, Mass., was a guest Monday of his grandfather, A. J. Bates of 85 Masonic street. Mr. Taylor is superintendent of the Stratton (Mass.) Woolen Mills.

Dick Knowlton was host at Camp Tobacco Box Tuesday night and Wednesday of the husky young crew of Phil Joneses summer crew at Hatchet Mountain Camp. The boys were on a hike through North Pond and Sennebec Lake enroute to Treasure Point Farm for a final rendezvous with Mayor and Mrs. Snow. Dick did himself proud as host with the full and continuous cooperation of the exhaustless stores of Knowlton's market.

Eugene Cates and family of Lewiston are visiting Mr. Cates' father, Alfred Cates, Brewster street.

Rev. and Mrs. George H. McCrea and children, Barbara, Marion, Margaret and Gordon of Sharon, Ill., are making two months' visit with Mrs. McCrea's father, Capt. H. R. Huntley. Another daughter, Miss Linda Huntley of New York, is also the guest of Capt. and Mrs. Huntley for a similar period.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus McInnis of Massachusetts are guests of Mr. McInnis' sister, Miss Kathie McInnis, Broadway.

Mrs. Charles Johnson of Dorchester, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Harry Hanson, Masonic street.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Milton Friese and children George and Jeannette of Boston are occupying the Snow cottage at Spruce Head for two weeks.

Mrs. Susie Ludwick who has been confined to her home by illness, is again at the Fuller-Cobb-Davis store. Miss Alva Spear, an employee of that firm, is out on account of ivy poisoning.

Bath Times: Frank J. McDonald, Rockland, formerly of Bath, was a visitor here Saturday. He had been to Cambridge, Mass., after his mother, Mrs. J. J. MacDonald and she went to Popham Beach to visit her daughter, Mrs. H. T. Stevens.

Perry Rich of Detroit, Mich., is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Rich, at Glen Cove.

There is a story abroad to the effect that daisies won't tell, but this was disproved at Luke Megunticook Tuesday night when a huge Blakely-eyed Susan divulged the secret of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Blithen of this city and Arthur Lawrence of Rockland and Cocanout Grove. The occasion was a dinner party given to some 25 Rockland and Camden friends of the interested couple by Miss Elizabeth McDougall and Marcus Chandler at the McDougall cottage. The huge daisy occupied the center of the table and when the individual place cards and strings were pulled each petal disclosed its message. Miss Blithen is the youngest daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. G. H. Blithen. Mr. Lawrence is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lawrence of this city and Cocanout Grove, Fla. Following the natural hubbub of the announcement, the party settled itself for bridge, prizes falling to Miss Marion Norton and Eugene Rich.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Jones have returned from Boston, where they went with Mrs. Lucy A. Tobey of Thomaston in her new Apperson sedan. Upon their return they were accompanied by Mrs. Mary Ashton of Boston, who will make a visit of several weeks in Thomaston.

Mr. and Mrs. David Shafter of 15 Rockland street have as their guests Allen B. Rolter, assistant cashier of the Boston Consolidated Gas Co., and Mrs. Fannie Shafter of New York City.

Albert M. Hastings is confined to the house by illness, which began last Sunday with an attack of chills.

Mrs. Margaret Graves, who has been sick at her home the past two weeks, is now able to receive callers.

The bridge club of which Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. O. Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Trimm are members, held one of its pleasant sessions Tuesday evening at Megunticook Lake, where Mr. Ladd is spending his vacation, with his family. The occasion took on added significance from the fact that it was Mr. Ladd's birthday, and when the picnic supper was served the popular insurance man, was treated to a pleasant surprise in the form of a birthday cake which was a gem of architecture on the part of Mrs. Elizabeth Gregory. There were bridge prizes for all concerned. Oh, "Tilly!"

Miss Madeline Cobb of Portland is the guest of Miss Marion Webb.

Miss Mildred Gillette of Newton Highlands, Mass., who was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Burgess, has returned to Crescent Beach.

Mrs. Eva Moody Arnfield of Paysonville, N. C., is visiting Mrs. Harry Chase, Brewster street.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Anderson of Portland were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dyer, Warren street.

Miss Rachel Browne is the guest of Mrs. R. L. Thompson.

Kenneth Dyer has returned from Billerica, Mass., where he has been the guest of his brother for the past three weeks.

Miss Maureen Burns of the North National Bank goes out on her vacation tomorrow. A trip to Quebec is in contemplation.

Mrs. Hattie Knowles and daughter Emma, left this morning for Eastham, Mass., for a month's visit.

Relatives held a pleasant reunion Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. Ephraim Lamb, 97 New County road. There were nine present. The picnic dinner and supper were all that could be desired, and all enjoyed the day immensely, inspecting the pretty bungalow, and with other diversions.

One of the prettiest social events of the summer was the reception given yesterday afternoon from 4.30 to 8 o'clock by Miss Katharine Buffum to her new sister-in-law, Mrs. David H. Buffum, who with her husband arrived in the city from Danzig Sunday. The Country Club was the scene of the reception, its rooms made doubly attractive under floral decorations and its walls set off with cleverly worded placards conveying advice to the guests. These to the number of nearly one hundred were largely of the younger social set, the beautiful summer toilets of the feminine portion making a brilliant picture of the occasion. In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Buffum, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Buffum, Miss Charlotte Buffum and Miss Katharine Buffum. Mrs. Buffum the younger was charming in a becoming gown of yellow voile and carried a bouquet of princess roses. Her natural beauty and grace of person, her poise and sweetness of manner won her an immediate place in the hearts of all who met her and won for "Dave" many congratulations upon the young bride (who was Miss Anne Schubert of Danzig) he has brought home from across the seas. The efficient force of the Country Club provided the refreshments "and Dear's Orchestra supplied music for the dancing which went on without interruption during the hours of the reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holt were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paul in Rockport Tuesday evening, the occasion being in honor of their birthdays, which fell on Monday and Tuesday. After dinner there were games at the house, and dancing at Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Humphrey of Lowell, Mass., and Mrs. Ida Damon of Malden are visitors at A. F. Humphrey's, Glen Cove.

Mrs. Frank E. Bridges of Swan's Island is spending the week here as the guest of Mrs. Kaler Mayo.

Mrs. Margaret Kossuth of Reading Mass., who has been making a two-weeks visit with her uncle, O. S. Knowles, South Main street, has returned to Vinhaven where she is spending the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Knowles have as their guest for the coming month their granddaughter, M. Anita McCoy of Forest Hills, Mass.

Miss Grace Emery is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Albert C. Emery at 28 Pacific street. What she had planned for an extended summer visit will necessarily close Aug. 6, when she leaves for Barnardville, N. J. to put on a Chinese Street Fair Sept. 16, 17 and 18. Associated with Miss S. A. Beck, Miss Emery has been wonderfully successful the past eight years putting on street fairs in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Connecticut, and making amazing sums for various associations and institutions. The patronesses have included many of the most prominent society women of the country. In one city where it had been hoped to raise $5000 the net receipts were $25,000.

Mrs. Frank Sweet of East Boston is the guest of Mrs. Theresa Thomas, Broadway.

Lewis B. Clark has returned from Medomak Camp, Washington, where he has been assisting in the work of bookkeeping.

At Bonny View Farm yesterday were Dr. and Mrs. Lowe of New Orleans and F. M. Thomas and sister Mrs. E. A. Houghton of Winthrop.

Mrs. N. M. Collison spent the weekend with her daughter, Mrs. Tena M. Hunt, in Warren, at the home of Roanoke Spear. Sunday the family took an automobile ride. In the course of which they went through Waldoboro, Nobleboro, Danverscott, Mills, Abna, South Whitefield, South and East Pittston, Randolph, Gardiner, South Gardiner, Topsham, Brunswick, South Harpswell, Orr's Island, Great Island, Bath, Woolwich, Wiscasset, Edgcomb and Newcastle, making a trip of 175 miles. They dined in Brunswick. To Mr. Spear who does not often enjoy the pleasure of so long a ride, it was a wonderful trip, the fine weather, and the beautiful scenery making it doubly pleasurable.

This Week

Twenty-five years ago
A review from the columns of this paper of some of the events which interested Rockland and vicinity for three weeks ending July 24, 1900.

"Chummy" Gray had joined the Kansas City baseball team. Joseph Henry Kallach of South Thomaston was appointed county commissioner to fill the unexpired term of the late Thomas Scott Bowden of Washington.

Rockland's valuation was found by the assessors to be $5,125,601 and the tax rate was 22 mills. The heaviest tax paying individuals and concerns were: John T. Berry, $1,551; Charles H. Berry, agent, $1,331; Berry Bros., $1,407; John Dyer Co., $1,553; Camden & Rockland Water Co., $1,463; Fuller & Cobb, $1,151; Rockland & Rockport Lime Co., $9,463; Alfred K. Spear heirs, $1,239; Davis Tillson heirs, $1,577.

The Courier-Gazette force held its annual picnic at Dabbs' Glen, Ovi's Head. Miss Helen York was chairman. [Those were the happy days.] Hiram G. Pillsbury sold his house on Mechanic street to Hiram Dunton. Alonzo Trafton, an employee of the Engine quarry cut one of his legs badly while breaking rock.

Miss Anna E. Coughlin was elected teacher of English and Botany in Rockland High School.

Summer P. Mills of Stonington began studying law in C. E. Littlefield's office.

Robert Sanborn fell from an apple tree at his father's home on Broadway, breaking one of his arms in two places.

The first annual reunion of the original Meserve's Quintet took place at Columbia cottage, Holiday Beach. The members were: Cal G. F. Meserve, Maynard S. Austin, Alex McDonald, John E. Doherty and James O'Neill. They had with them copies of the "old book."

The Rockland, Thomaston & Camden Street Railway was building a pier 132 feet long at Glen Cove.

The Street Railway had six regular cars in operation.

Fred M. Smith's new bowling alley at Crescent Beach were formally opened with a game between Rockland and Camden in which the former won by 15 pins. The Rockland bowlers were Eaton, Thomas, Winslow, Ingraham and Kittredge; the Camden bowlers were French, Pearson, Ames, Hewett and Chandler. Ingraham was high line.

Edith W. E. Thorndike, American Express driver, hoisted the first Bryan and Stevenson flag in this city.

Rockland's second "Board of Trade Day" drew a big crowd to the city. A parade of ancient and modern vehicles and the stage coach capture by the Indians were program features.

The committee on entertainments comprised O. E. Davies, Dr. A. R. Smith and F. A. Winslow.

The annual convention of the Knox County W. C. T. U. was held in this city, these officers being elected: President, Mrs. R. C. Hall, Rockland; corresponding secretary, Miss Irene Heald, Camden; recording secretary, Miss Carrie Bradford, Upton; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Watts, Warren.

The Democratic County Convention was held in Thomaston. Clarence E. Paul of Rockport presided and George E. Allen of St. George and Ensign O'Brien of Camden acted as secretaries. These nominations were made: State Senator, Lindley M. Staples of Washington; county commissioners, William L. Allen of St. George and Elmer E. Jameson of Warren; clerk of courts, Clifford B. Butler of South Thomaston; county attorney, Philip Howard of Rockland; sheriff, L. W. Renner of Rockland; judge of probate, Charles K. Miller of Camden; register of probate, Clarence D. Payson of Thomaston; county treasurer, D. M. Murphy of Rockland. Two ballots were required to nominate a candidate for senator. Mr. Staples' opponent being Obadiah Gardner.

John Diamond, 77, and near sighted walked off the end of a Park street culvert and rolled headlong into the brook. He was unconscious for some time after.

Rockland Camp of Modern Woodmen was organized. The officers were E. W. Porter, C. E. Fudge, Clarence B. Jones, A. L. Pillsbury, Colby Moore, V. V. Hanson, M. P. Judkins, Prescott S. Leavitt and A. Lewis.

The firm of Simmons, White & Co., was established, the members being C. F. Simmons, Franz M. Simmons and William T. White. The concern engaged in the lobster and coal business.

Peterson & Mero opened a laundry opposite the Y. M. C. A. building.

George A. Tarr was elected chancellor commander of Gen. Berry Lodge, K. of P.

Capt. Edmund Gallage of Everett, Mass., took command of the Salvation Army which then had 12 members.

H. W. Thorndike was appointed special agent of the manufacturing census for Thomaston, Rockland and Camden.

Miss Georgia Henderson of Rockland and Miss Edith G. Watts of St. George, winners of The Courier-Gazette voting contest, sailed for Paris.

D. N. Hardacker, a traveling man well known in Rockland, died in Denbigh, Mass.

The Republican county convention, held at the Court House was presided over by Frank A. Winslow, the secretaries being Jesse H. Ogier of Camden and Charles W. Orbeton of Rockland. These nominations were made: Senator, Herbert L. Shepherd, Rockport; judge of probate, Charles E. Meserve, South Thomaston; reg-

PARK THEATRE

Alice Terry in "Any Woman" is the attraction for the last time today. "Any Woman" centers about a beautiful society girl, whose millionaire father goes bankrupt with the result that she is compelled to earn her own living as best she can.

The new Paramount comedy, which comes for Friday and Saturday, bears the directorial stamp of James Cruze and has the somewhat intriguing title of "Marry Me!" This promising combination is further reinforced by a tip-top cast, featuring such likeable players as Florence Vidor, Edward Everett Horton, Helen Jerome Eddy and John Roche.

The action of the story develops amidst rural surroundings, and has to do with the matrimonial misadventures of a small town school teacher, whose desire for romance gets her into all sorts of amusing complications.

On the same program there is Jack Hoxie in "The Roaring Adventure"—adv.

"THE TEN COMMANDMENTS"

Some books are read, and then thrown away. Some pictures are seen and then forgotten. The life of an ordinary movie—the society drama or comedy, is about two years.

Classics of literature like "Hamlet" and Emerson's "Essay on Compensations" live throughout generations and are read again and again.

"The Ten Commandments" has a theme so great, a sweep so large, and is so elaborately produced that it is one of the small group of films which will never die. As a fine book can be read over and over again, so a picture like this can be looked at more than once without losing its flavor.

Cecil B. DeMille's cinemasterpiece will be shown at the Park Theatre Monday and Tuesday—adv.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Conway Tearle in "Just a Woman" and William Fairbanks in "The Fighting Fool" will be shown today.

"Sundown" is the main attraction at the Empire for Friday and Saturday. Its story is laid in the present day, and it unfolds the dramatic story of the passing of the Old West before the advance of civilization.

This, incidentally, current history, since the encroachment on the unfenced ranges of the Southwest recently caused American cattlemen to unite their herds and drive them across the Rio Grande into Mexico, and it was these scenes which were filmed by First National to be incorporated in "Sundown." Never again will such huge herds be seen in the United States. More than a quarter of a million head of cattle will be seen winding their way in a huge line half a mile wide in this forthcoming production.

In addition to the feature there is the first chapter of "The Fighting Ranger," featuring Jack Daugherty, Al Wilson and Eileen Sedgwick.

"The Fighting Ranger" is a story of love, intrigue and desperate adventure in the cattle country of the Southwest.—adv.

A BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Employees of the Interior Department do too much sitting down, clock watching and stumping over surplus office furniture to suit Secretary Work, so he has given orders to strip the department's office for action.

The first move was in the general land office, where 250 chairs were removed, most of the clocks dismantled, and two van loads of stools, wardrobes and desks, valued at $624, turned over to the government's general supply office.

Thomaston High School graduation exercises in Watts hall, the participants were: Salutatory, Ella M. Roney; essay, Sarah H. Young; history, Henry E. Beveridge; oration, Donald Stimpson; prophecy, Nettie J. Sampson; valedictory, Vidue E. Gardiner.

A large auditorium and field house costing $250,000 is to be erected at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, financed entirely by the athletic board of the university. The athletic board of Leland Stanford University (Calif.) is building and financing three dormitories on the campus for university students.

TO VACATIONISTS

Here Are Three Valuable Tips As To Drinking Water.

To the would-be vacationists in this State as well as elsewhere words of warning are now timely. There are certain perils to thoughtless or unskillful campers and tourists.

In the drinking water from sources not carefully selected there are potential dangers, particularly that of water-borne typhoid fever.

The great majority of the public water supplies are safe; and with the work of the district health officers and the six hundred or more chemical and bacteriological examinations of samples of water from public and private supplies done monthly in the laboratory of the State Department of Health, the number of good supplies is increasing; but there are wells, springs and brooks that are unsafe.

As a help in avoiding them, keep the following rules in mind when on your vacation trip.

Do not drink from a brook or stream under any conditions unless you have previously boiled the water for at least five minutes. All surface waters are at some time or other, subject to chance pollution and might possibly be the source of infection.

Do not drink from a well if the surroundings are untidy, or if a stable, pig pen, chicken house, etc., near, or if a privy is located nearer than one hundred feet from the well; or if the drainage from possible sources of pollution is towards the well.

Do not drink from a spring even in a sparsely inhabited country, unless the spring is absolutely protected from drainage and chance pollution from land above the spring and a careful investigation should be made for possible sources of such.

Many wells and springs from which rural inhabitants get their water supplies are sources of danger because their owners have not graded up around the wells so that the surface wash is diverted from them.

A thermos bottle filled with water from any of the principal public water supplies in the cities passed through is a good safety device, when thirst is urgent in places where the indications are that the wells and springs are questionable.

Although we are not having one fifth as much typhoid fever as we had twenty years ago, the possible chance of receiving its infection in polluted water makes it worth while to be thoughtful when thirst sends the eye in the direction of wells and springs.

The almost complete banishment of typhoid fever from the armies engaged in the World War should suggest the desirability of seeking immunity from this disease when it can be had with three almost painless hypodermic injections at intervals of about seven days, a little while before leaving home.

George Phillips met him at the station, escorted him to the roundhouse, and put him in a night switcher.

For three months Dave held this trick, meantime he had not seen a thing of Phillips during that time, but one night he met him as he was going to work, and Phillips stopped him and said: "I have a man on work train that is not having very good success firing the 38. I am going to put you on, Monday, if you can't fire her, I will put someone else on," then Phillips walked away.

Some Monday Dave began to fire the 38 for Fred Wing on the Waterville train and was with Fred two years, and Dave always said Fred was one of the best boys he ever worked with.

Fred was killed about two months after Dave got through on that job by striking a hard car and going off the iron.

The 22-ton Knox & Lincoln engine "Henry Ingalls" was the first engine Dave ever fired.

After Dave was promoted he

OLD K. & L. MAN

David O. Wade 35 Years In the Cab, Still In Active Service.

Dave Wade first saw the light of day in the town of Warren in 1866. That is the section the old Knox & Lincoln run through, when it commenced to skip the water and run on land for a mile or two now and then.

Dave started in on this road in 1882, when 17 years old, on the Warren section, under Foreman William Wiley. This section was six miles long—it extended two miles west of the station, and four miles east to East Waldoboro.

Dave used to walk over the west section and back, covering four miles, then strike out east, track walking east until he met the crew with the car. Sometimes he would walk eight miles before he began his day's work.

In those days they had some work to do, as the old iron was about played out. Lots of times they would put a rail in one day and have to take it out the next, or turn it around to get a little more wear out of it.

Dave worked on the section four years, and it was during that time that they had the big freeze on the Kennebec River.

They called on a lot of the section men to help clear the ice near the slip, and Dave's crew went.

It was night and very dark on the Woolwich shore. There were places where one would put his foot down through the ice, and places where the ice was quite thick, and it was dangerous work. It took them all night to saw a lane through the ice for the boat, and Dave was mighty glad when morning came.

After four years on the section, Dave was station agent at Warren for the next three years, and then he went firing. He also had the postoffice.

His first trick was with engineer Frank Head, engine No. 3, "Henry Ingalls" and the run was on that early morning passenger out of Rockland, that connected with No. 62 out of Bath. Train No. 3 on K. & L. leaving Rockland at 4:50 a. m., arriving in Woolwich at 6:51.

They remained in Woolwich all day, and taking their train after No. 59 arrived in Bath, they left Woolwich at 6:30 p. m. on train 5 and arrived at Rockland at 8:55 p. m.; some long hours, as they had to be on duty by 4 a. m., and did not get their engine put up until about 9:30, after switching out their train.

Dave fired for Frank a few months, then for his uncle, H. E. Nash, on what are now trains 74 and 57. On this run they had engine No. 7, John F. Berry, a very smart, up-to-date little engine.

Putting in a few weeks on this run, he was then shifted to the freight with Ben Whitehouse, engine No. 6, "Gen. Knox." That was a stiff job. They left Rockland at 5 a. m. on train 8, arriving at Woolwich at 9:45, if they had good luck, but they were late usually.

There being only one freight crew on this road, they had all the spotting cars to do and all the local freight to load and unload.

They were supposed to set all their cars on the ferry boat, and at a load, and haul all the east bound cars off. Coal up also at Woolwich. Due out on the return run on No. 7 at noon, and get back to Rockland any time, they could after 5 p. m.

It was in link and pin days, and the K. & L. also had a cord running over the top of the train, connecting the caboose with a gong on the engine.

As there were many humps and sags on the K. & L. in those days, the old gong rang pretty often for a break-in-two, and a good slice of the bell cord would be broken off each time.

There was no air on freights and only straight air on passenger at that time, and although Dave burned 7 or 8 tons of coal each trip, his hardest work was setting up the tender brake for every shift they made to help stop them.

Dave went firing in February and in the fall was taken sick with fever. By the time he was able to work again, the K. & L. had been taken over by the Maine Central.

Dave was ordered to Waterville, George Phillips met him at the station, escorted him to the roundhouse, and put him in a night switcher.

For three months Dave held this trick, meantime he had not seen a thing of Phillips during that time, but one night he met him as he was going to work, and Phillips stopped him and said: "I have a man on work train that is not having very good success firing the 38.
